To Whom It May Concern:

It is our pleasure to recommend Logistics Group International as a logistics partner.

The partnership between LGI and Entertainment Logistics started in 2003 when they first began handling our North American trucking.

LGI has successfully handled all of trucking needs including exhibition specimens, as well as several of our motorsport clients.

They have always met our time sensitive and customized requirements professionally without exception.

Their experience in logistics as well as their reliability has been a valuable asset to Entertainment Logistics, and we enthusiastically recommend them to any company.

We do not consider LGI to be a supplier but an essential part of Entertainment Logistics.

Please feel free to contact us if you desire any further information about Logistics Group International.

Yours truly,

Robert Aspinall
President
