Attn: Stephen Day

In this day and age when honesty, integrity and good customer service are almost a thing of the past, Logistics Group International is a shining example of all of these things.

Bamberger Polymers has been your customer since your inception date. Your caring attitude and willingness to help cope with our day to day transportation needs help us to achieve a comfort zone where we know our requirements will be met and our problems handled with efficiency and expediency.

It is a sincere pleasure doing business with you and your expert support staff. We all look forward to a long and prosperous business relationship between our two companies. Keep up the good work.

Best regards,
